

The National Museum of American Diplomacy

In this interconnected world, the story of American diplomacy is linked intrinsically to the stories of its allies around the globe such as the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia with which the U.S. now celebrates 76 years of bilateral ties. The National Museum of American Diplomacy (NMAD) shares the story of the history, practice, and challenges of American diplomacy. Through exhibitions and programs, the Museum will inspire its visitors to discover diplomacy and how it impacts their daily lives – domestically and internationally. The Diplomacy Center Foundation is the private-sector 501 (c) 3, fundraising partner to the United States Department of State in building the NMAD. We would like to invite the members of the U.S. – Saudi Arabian Business Council to join our circle of sponsors to commemorate the history of the international exchange between the two countries through a corporate or individual sponsorship. There are numerous opportunities available participate in creating this unique museum from endowing a month-long country program to underwriting a lecture series based on a diplomacy-related subject of the donor's choosing. Information on individual exhibit sponsorships can be provided on inquiry.
